THE WEDDING.

The marriage of Miss Harriet S. daughter of Robert N. Hawley, Esq., of Hawleyville, to Mr. Wm. F. Hard, of Bridgeport, Wednesday Nov. 14th, was an occasion of rejoicing to the many friends and relatives of the happy pair, about sixty of the near relatives and friends of the family assembled to witness the marriage ceremony, which was performed by Rev. F. W. Barnett, at the close of the ceremony the guests partook of a substantial feast, which was pronounced by those who saw the arrangement of the tables, to be magnificent. The bride and groom received many beautiful and useful gifts from their friends.

ACCIDENTS.

On Thursday last Mr. Peter Nash was engaged fixing an eve-trough on his house, when it fell, striking him over the left eye, cutting a deep gash. The force of the blow was very severe, causing Mr. Nash a panoramic view of the starry vault of heaven, gorgeous to behold. Our friend Nash has seen the November meteoric shower.

Edward Minor came near getting both of his legs broken, last Thursday, while hauling stone. The stoneboat got caught against a stump, and after being freed from the obstruction again caught against a stone, and slewed around with great force, striking him on the leg, one of which was so much bruised and swollen on Friday that it was painful for him to walk. It was a very narrow escape, from serious injury.

A CASE OF SOMNAMBULISM.

A young man named Tracey Booth visited the residence of Mr. Elliott Peck, Tuesday 13th, and remained all night. He retired at an early hour, and was accompanied by a son of Mr. Peck. During the night young Booth arose in his sleep, went to a window and sprang through it, with a crash that startled his room-mate who found young Booth out on the veranda, cut and bleeding. Young Booth was taken back into the room, and Dr. F. N. Bennett sent for, who dressed the wounds, which, though serious, are not dangerous, and we learn that the young man is getting along finely. The window contained four large panes of glass, at least one-eighth of an inch thick, placed in a stout sash, but they were all broken out by his striking the centre piece and breaking it. Mr. Booth has walked in his sleep before, but this is his first leap into darkness through a window. We would advise him to practice on the front door hereafter, "with the key thrown down the well."

A SAD AFFAIR.

On Sunday morning, Mrs. Thos. Doran of Greenwood Avenue, was lighting a fire, and as the kindlings were not dry enough to burn rapidly she poured on some rock oil. Suddenly, the oil can, which she was holding in her hands flew apart with a loud noise, and Mrs. Doran became wrapped in flames, as did also her two children, Joseph and Eddie, who were in the room at the time. Mrs. Doran immediately ran out doors, with the baby, which she placed on the ground, screamed and threw herself down on her face. Mr. Doran and the two oldest boys, who were at the barn, immediately ran to Mrs. D's assistance, and by means of a tub of water and a coat succeeded in putting out the flames, but not until both mother and child were seriously burned. In the meantime, all in the house was confusion. Mrs. D's daughter, hearing their mother scream, rushed down stairs, and saw their little brother Joseph burning, and the carpet and table on fire. With great presence of mind the eldest daughter rushed for a blanket, with which she enveloped the burning child, and succeeded in extinguishing the fire. The carpet was burned so that it fell apart when lifted, and one of the table-boards was burned.

Dr. Barber was called as soon as possible, and in the meantime everything was done, by the neighbors, that could be done, to relieve the sufferings of the mother and children who were burned, and to comfort the father and the remaining children.

At about half-past ten A. M. the youngest child was relieved from its misery, and at about 1 P. M. little Joseph followed his brother to the better land.

It was hoped by all that Mrs. Doran's injuries were not going to prove fatal, as she had a strong constitution, and great desire to live, but about 5 P. M. she ceased to breathe, and passed away quietly, with her family and friends weeping around her bedside.

Mrs. Doran was a very excellent lady, a kind mother and devoted wife. This is a severe blow to the family that still remain, and who have the sincere sympathy of the entire community. —Bethel Press.

POPULAR LECTURE COURSE.

Maj. H. C. Dane, who lectured in Danbury about two years ago, on "The Great Naval Battles of the Rebellion," which delighted his audience, will deliver the next lecture on the Popular Course, in the Opera House, Danbury, Friday Eve. Nov. 23d. His subject will be "Up the Rhine and over the Alps, with a Knapsack," and the trip will not doubt be a pleasant one to his hearers, who will avoid the unpleasantness of carrying the Knapsack, and still enjoy the pleasure of the trip.

ARRIVALS AND DEPARTURES.

Mrs. Wm. Blakelock and children, of St. Petersburg, Penn., arrived in town several days ago, and are the guests of Wm. Blakelock, Sr.

Dr. Wilcoxson and daughter, of New Haven, visited town, stopping at Dick's Hotel for a few hours, last Thursday.

Mr. T. B. Curtis and lady, of New York, arrived Thursday, and are stopping at Dick's Hotel.

Mrs. A. P. Smith and Mrs. Jerome A. Perkins left town last week for a visit to their friends in South Adams, Mass.

David M. King, of Branford Point House, Geo. H. Brown, of New Haven, and A. G. Bailey, of North Adams, Mass., were guests of the Central House last week.

Mr. Philo Clark arrived home from Nebraska last week, highly pleased with his recent excursion, an account of which will be found in another column.

Mr. Egbert Halleck and wife, formerly of this place, made a flying visit to Mrs. Halleck's father Mr. Alonzo Sherman, Zoro, on Saturday, and Sunday last, Mrs. Sherman returned home with them to Washington.

Mrs. Edward Wilson returned Saturday evening, from a short but enjoyable trip to New York.

Mrs. Laura Sherman, mother of Morris Sherman, formerly of the Hook, but now of Wallingford, is visiting her many friends here.

Mr. T. E. Scales has left town for New York, with his brother Willie, who has for a long time been afflicted with hip disease, but is now rapidly improving under the treatment of Dr. Sayers, who he is now visiting for treatment. It is expected that he will return soon, much improved.

Mr. James Turney and family have been the guests of R. Turney for a few days. They returned to their home, in Brooklyn, Tuesday morning.

NEWTOWN RIFLE CLUB.

The following is the score of the Newtown Rifle Club, recently organized, Wm. H. Rowell, President, Frank T. Botsford, secretary, F. P. Marble, treasurer.

Frank T. Botsford made the best centre shot. Wm. Botsford made some good shots for a man of his age, without the aid of glasses. The boys will go for Rowell, on the next score.

LOCAL JOTTINGS.

Union services every afternoon and evening in the Congregational church.

Have you selected your Thanksgiving turkey.

The heaviest thunder storm of the season occurred on Saturday night.

Major Greene and family are boarding, for the winter, at Dick's Hotel.

Mr. N. Elwood has moved into Sandy Hook.

Rev. Charles Fletcher, P. E. preached Sunday evening, in the M. E. church, Sandy Hook.

Mr. N. B. Glover has been repairing the roof of his house, around the chimney. D. M. Reynolds did the work.

Mr. Saml. Barnum, of Hawleyville, is building another barn on the site of the one lately destroyed by fire.

Mr. Stanley Squires, of South Britain commenced the study of medicine, in the office of Dr. Wile, this week.

We never saw a woman that could shoe a horse, but it is fun to see one "shoo" a hen.

Buckwheat cakes are now in order, and we are prepared to sample the materials from which they are built.

Smith & Perkins commenced, Monday morning, to paint the residence of C. F. Beardsley.

Dr. Wilcoxson has made arrangements with Mr. Geo. W. Stuart to have his residence completed this winter.

Hubbard & Taylor, at the depot, are painting their granary. Hubbard is the chief artist, and Thede Taylor smilingly assists.

Bradley & Riggs, of South Britain, have been doing some mason work for Mr. D. Nobles.

The fellowship meeting on Tuesday was well attended. In our next issue we will give the particulars more fully.

The following gentlemen have been elected trustees of the M. E. Church society, in Sandy Hook: H. L. Wheeler and Elias F. Sanford.

Mr. Joseph Blackman has had the house occupied by D. M. Reynolds, repaired. Mr. John Halligan did the carpenter work.

Among the notes of Minor importance is the fact about fifty hogs have been butchered in this town by one firm during the past week.

There is a rumor current that there are more dogs kept in this town than there are hogs fattened, and we believe it. Look to it, assessors.

The display of fashions next Sunday at church, if pleasant, will be worth witnessing judging from the activity of our local milliners and dressmakers.

A man named Hugh Gallagher was injured by the milk train on the Housatonic R. R. Thursday night, between the Junction and Hawleyville.

Mrs. J. Fitzpatrick has contracted with E. B. Wilson for the erection of a dwelling house on her lot on Dayton Park, Sandy Hook. Gov. Hawley has the cellar nearly completed.

Although we have a good drum corps in town scarcely a train arrives but what brings one or more drummers in to see us. They practice a different "beat" however.

Selectman Mitchell has acted upon the suggestion of the "Bee," by giving us a nice iron tank, in place of the rickety old watering-trough in Sandy Hook. Thanks.

Choice new Muscatel Raisins (not old candied ones) only 10c. a pound, at L. B. Booth's.

A young lady named Mary Maddigan, who has lived for a number of years in the family of C. H. Peck, Esq., is very ill of consumption, with no hope of recovery.

The Housatonic Mining Company of Brookfield are putting in an engine for pumping and drawing up the ore. The richness of the material obtained is said constantly to be on the increase.

Another lot of those good raisins just arrived at Sanford & Hawley's, only 10 cts. per pound.

Rev. Mr. Barnett read a notice in church Sunday afternoon, which stated that Thursday evening the parishioners would pay a visit to Dr. Marble. Should it storm, the visit will take place to-morrow (Friday) night.

Mr. J. Wm. Shaw will be at Sanford & Hawley's store Friday (to-morrow), where those wishing to purchase a sewing machine can see him, and buy a machine for $27 that was sold a short time ago for $45. They are warranted.

If our young men (and old ones too) would consider how ridiculous and foolish it is to round off a story with a string of oaths, we should bear much less profanity, in our intercourse with each other.

Fox hunting is all the go at present. Messrs. Cornell and Bostwick were out last week Wednesday, and killed one. Mr. Curtis will doubtless add much to the sport by his presence, making a trio that Reynard will not care to meet when they go out again.

The best Japan Tea ever offered, for 30c. a pound, or 3 1/2 pounds for $1.00. Go to L. B. Booth's for it.

Mrs. Birch, mother of Mr. Norman B. Glover has reached her one hundred and first birthday, and received the congratulations of her friends. She is a very remarkable lady. Her health is very good, and she bids fair to live many years yet.

We are informed that some of the young lads who attend our schools are in the habit of carrying loaded revolvers and practicing with them during recess and noon hours. Would it not be a good idea for teachers and parents to put a stop to such dangerous practices?

L. B. Booth sells 10 1/4 pounds Nix Extra C. Sugar for $1.00.

The inside of Judson Bros. store received the respectful attention of Ed. Wilson, which resulted in a marked improvement, which will enable the firm to show their large stock of ready-made clothing to a better advantage, they having a room now entirely devoted to that branch of business.

The sound sleepers of the town were awakened Sunday morning, between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock by the storm which visited this place, accompanied by heavy thunder, and sharp lightning. The wind, hail and rain, for a few minutes, was quite heavy. It is reported that it was much more severe in other places.

The cheapest place to buy sugars, or anything in the grocery line, quality considered, is at Sanford & Hawley's.

A sociable will be given in Sanford's Hall, Wednesday evening, Nov. 28th, for benefit of the Newtown Library. Ladies are requested to furnish refreshments. Tickets, including supper, $1. Music by Bradley's band. Our Library is in want of new books, and it is earnestly hoped our citizens, old and young, will all help us by their presence. Invitations will be issued in due time.

Dr. Hawley preached morning and afternoon, at Trinity church, last Sunday. We were disappointed in not seeing a larger attendance in the morning but we think the weather prevented many from coming. In was very windy and disagreeable. The attendance in the afternoon was much better, at which time the collection was taken in aid of the parish at Stafford's Springs, of which Dr. Hawley is rector. Several of the doctor's old parishioners, of Danbury were present in the morning.

Mr. Henry Sanford employed Messrs. Judson and Curtis, the gentlemen who have been working the road, to fix the road both sides of the Congregational church, and they have done it well, and it is a great improvement. In addition to this, they carted gravel on to the main street, and made a good walk from the store of Sanford & Hawley to the Episcopal church. Mr. Sanford, on last Saturday, engaged Mr. Geo. Stuart to trim up the large elm tree in front of the store, which will prove no doubt a good thing for the tree. It would do no harm to trim up several more on the street.

Pure Gum Rubber Boots only $3.48 a pair. At L. B. Booth's is where you get them.

Toney Warner, son of Nodia Warner, of Bennett's Bridge, secured a severe and painful gun-shot wound, on Saturday last. He was out hunting with a lad by the name of Pierce, and while holding his gun carelessly by the muzzle the hammer struck against a stone, discharging both barrels in his hand, inflicting a dangerous wound, and lacerating the hand fearfully. Dr. W. C. Wile was immediately sent for, and amputated the first finger, and also removed one of the bones of the hand, at the wrist, in order to save it if possible, but the laceration is so extreme that it is doubtful if it can be saved.

A veteran "vult" of our acquaintance prophesies that the coming winter will be one of mildness and thin ice—a kind of open, Southern winter. From the particular way in which the sun "crossed the line," he says most of the storms, are to end up with a heavy blow from the "southward." Judging from what has already taken place within the last few weeks in the latter respect, his prognostications are in a fair way to be verified. —Stanford Herald.

Just as we go to press we hear of the death of Mrs. Harriet Beers, a lady aged about 70 years. Her death was very sudden, and is supposed to have been caused by heart disease.

A son of Mr. Starr Blackman named Henry, dislocated his left shoulder, by being thrown out of a wagon, Monday last.

Mr. Saml. Hawley, of Zoro, who had his leg amputated a short time ago, is now suffering with lockjaw.

A gentleman named Lavey came near having his house destroyed by fire, Sunday, in Berkshire.

DANBURY NOTES.

The banks of Still River were overflowed last week, an unusual event of late years at the commencement of Winter.

A delegation of our firemen attended the firemen's ball at Bethel, Friday evening, Nov. 9th.

Last Thursday night Dennis Ryan had his pig stolen from his pen. No news yet from either hog.

De Witt Talmage, the Brooklyn oracle lectured here Thursday evening. Jas. Slatters, a New Fairfield charcoal man, was recently before the police court for drunkenness. The "dollar of our fathers" not forthcoming to pay the penalty he was sent to jail.

What was the cause of that singular unpopularity of Sheriff Sanford in Newtown? Is what Danbury would like to know.

The whole establishment of the Tweedy Man'f. Co. is now what is termed in Dutch phraseology—"Independent."—Hunt Messrs. Andrews & Parsons are agents in Danbury for the "Astral," a new parlor stove, which has all the latest improvements and attachments, and they say it is the best stove in the market. Call and see them, also the large assortment of other styles of stoves, hardware, etc. this reliable firm keep constantly on hand.

Almost every one appreciates a well set table, and what adds more to the appearance than good Knives, Forks and Spoons, and for the approaching Thanksgiving Dinner you will find a large and choice assortment at H. Ripley Jeweler, at H. M. Robinson's the Danbury Jeweler.

The new house, 500 feet, has been received by our fire department.

The court of common pleas is still in session here, but the business before it is not of public interest.

A colored man named Burr, dislocated his shoulder while wrestling, a few days since.

The Knights of Pythias have their annual festival, the evening before Thanksgiving.

A new head-light, for their carriage, has been received by Rose Co. No. 2.

The skating boy was examining ice nearly half an inch thick, with apparent satisfaction, last Wednesday morning.

Correspondence.

Woodbury.

The excitement of the election being over the people have settled down to a careful attention to their usual avocations and peaceful pursuits. This is an "off year" and there is to be no more political stir or turmoil till October of next year. There is so little to be done this political year that even our Worshipful Legislature will have to engage the services of a brass band to keep their sessions from being hopelessly monotonous.

But not everything is quiet and peaceful in even these dull-times. As our lock-up sears completion it would seem that some of our Celtic and African population, fearing that the time is short in which they can engage in fighting, with impunity, are making good use of their time in laying up a store of bruises, black eyes, etc. An instance of this occurred a few days ago at the Village near Hog-pen hill. Marshall Cam disports himself with a mule of the usual vicious propensities, which, if he could get the chance, would kick the sky-light out of a church steeple. John Carroll, an Irish American, who is a good fellow when he is "John," and Cam were both feeling gloriously. John seized the mule by the bit, when lively times ensued. At length Cam got out of his chariot and dealt John a "side-winder," which knocked him as "stiff as a mackerel," and cracked his jaw bone; whereupon John had his damages repaired by a surgeon, and Cam was treated to a fine of $7 and costs. John is believed to have been as much to blame as Cam, but as he had to nurse his jaw 'twas thought his punishment was about equal to Cam's. There must be an end to this fun. The lock-up will, in a few days, be ready, and will unfold such parties in its cool embrace, and they be obliged to "cool their heels" in its deep recesses.

A little son of Rev. Mr. Brown, pastor of the Methodist church, went into the store of Mr. A. A. Root, one day last week, to carry a letter, and a vicious dog owned by Mr. Root or his son, leaped upon the child, biting him severely above and below the left eye, and through the neck and jaw. The child is recovering but it is probable that he will bear some ugly scars for life. The bite of a dog makes an ugly wound, and usually leaves a bad scar. I do not know why people wish to keep a vicious dog. If they will do so they should keep them muzzled and chained. This dog departed this life the day after his last bite. No peace to his ashes!

Our Village Improvement society has had its annual election, choosing James Huntington Esq. President, and Horace D. Corbin Esq. chairman, of the Executive committee. Membership dues have been collected to pay the old debt into $13, and under the active canvass of Mr. M. F. Skelly it is expected that this will be immediately paid with a good surplus to commence meeting the expenses of the ensuing year. Such will be the case if he pushes the matter with his usual vigor. Up town must increase its membership or Down town will be sadly tempted to "go it alone." This would not, in these beautiful days of conciliation and reconciliation, and healing of old feuds the country through, be at all desirable. It is time the old feud between the two ends of the town should be discontinued. Nothing should be allowed to stir up the ancient strife. If we can embrace and kiss our Southern brethren, the inhabitants of this beautiful valley should be willing to do as much.

Something has had a good effect on Down town, for within a few days the neighbors turned out and made a fine sidewalk from near Thomas Bull's to the Masonic Lodge, a distance of nearly an eighth of a mile. The society has, at least, filled the office of calling the attention of the people to needed improvements, and much has been done. A great mistake was made in the outset in putting up nearly double the number of street lamps that were necessary, so that I judge it will cost $300 or $400 a year to run them. So in the matter of setting out of trees instead of allowing the tree committee to have control of the matter, and set them out on a definite and tasteful plan, it was "every one for himself and heaven for us all," so that efforts in this direction have been spasmodic and irregular. But, time, which makes all things even, will probably correct these evils in the end. If it does not do so charge the failure to the account of NAMELESS.

Southbury.

DEAR SIR:—G. A. Stiles was the candidate for legislative honors, at the late election, but H. S. Wheeler saw him 67 better, and of course swept in the stakes. Past was sold-out not a Whitmore or less than 62 majority, while Byrbee treated the reps to the time of $57.

A special town meeting was held on Saturday afternoon, the 10th inst., nothing of interest occurring except some lively sparring between S. J. Stoddard and Emory Ford, Esq., in regard to the road in question. The vote approving the layout as made by the selectmen, was almost unanimous.

We miss "Kate," of South Britain. Where is the "old gal" and that "Nameless" Kuss from Woodbury? Echo answers, where?

Some of our democratic brethren still insist that Charley fell on Peggy's neck and wept, election morn, but we are authorized to say such was not the case.

Mr. G. P. Shelton and family remove to Florida. May success attend, and friends await them in their new home.

The White Oak Lyceum opened for the winter season, on Friday Eve Nov. 9th, and was greatly enjoyed by those present. The hall has been improved by the society lately. In the matter of light, viz. outside a large street lamp enables patrons to "get up stairs" with less danger to neck and bones. A nice bronze chandelier, with shades, gives light unto dark place. Several new features in the entertainment are to be introduced from time to time. A cordial invitation is tendered to all to attend. Meeting next, and each successive Friday evening, through the season. Subject for next debate: "That wealth exerts a greater influence over the human race than education." Affirmative, E. G. Wheeler and Will. F. Donnelly; negative, S. E. Warner and W. C. Beecher.

It seems to us that performance in South Britain hangs fire a little, does it not? GUESS!

South Britain.

Editor of the Bee:

DEAR SIR:—If a stranger was to drop into this beautiful village just at this time he would see by the looks of the people's countenances that there was some secret trouble which weighs alike on rich and poor, high and low; but on enquiry he would find that we were in danger of losing one of our most respected and influential citizens; and there is some talk of calling a town meeting to see if some action cannot be taken town-wide that will induce him to remain. This is a small, but thriving village, and we cannot afford to lose its mainpring of action by letting some of its heaviest business men move out.

The new blacksmith shop is fast nearing completion. It will be one of the finest shops in all its requirements in the State.

There was a special town meeting last Saturday to take into consideration the advisability of laying out a new road over by Grant's saw-mill. The general feeling seems to be that there are about roads enough now unless they can be kept in better repair. Tyler, the Woodbury stage man, seems to think there might be some repairs on the road between here and Sandy Hook, which would be advantageous. Speaking of Tyler, I see he wears a Diadem, but whether it is with him, as with Eastern monarchs, an ensign of royalty, or (Continued on next page.)
